Dear Reader,

In the years to come, we hope you look back at this yearbook remembering your joyous time at Park School. This book features some of the most memorable moments of this past year's days, weeks, and months. The time we have shared together as a community is commemorated here in the pages of the Brownie. As the editors, we thank you for making this book possible.

For us, the best part of the year has now arrived—the moment when we give you the book, and finally get to share our work with you. We hope that you've had a wonderful year, and that the best moments of your 2018–2019 school year are forever preserved within this book. So what should you do now? Flip through the pages, remember all the great things you experienced in the past year, and enjoy your summer. It's the yearbook, so go ahead and read it!

Best Wishes,
The 2019 Brownie Editors

DEDICATION: Nancy Fink–35 years

Nancy Fink is a consummate professional in the field of foreign language instruction. She has made sure to keep up to date with the latest pedagogical developments in the field and worked incessantly to find new resources and consistently reexamine her teaching techniques. Each year she refines the content of each course and the material she uses. An important voice of reason in the department, Nancy has great intuition when it comes to decision making; her contributions will be sorely missed by the language department.

But when I think of Nancy Fink beyond the professional teacher, the first thing that comes to mind is her tremendous generosity and empathy. She is an individual who always thinks about others and offers her help when she sees someone in need. In Spanish we would say she is detallista because she pays attention to the needs of each individual. In many ways I believe she sees Park as an extension of her family and wants to take care of the people in this family.

When I first came to Park in 1999, I had just returned from Spain after eight years abroad teaching English and had no resources whatsoever. Nancy immediately offered to help me with my classes and lend me all sorts of materials, even handing me a wad of Ecuadorian bills that I ended up using in simulations. Kindness like this I will always remember. Due to the fact that I had never taught Spanish before, I often asked her for help and advice, and she was always there to help.

Many of my colleagues will remember her wonderful black bean soup on comment-writing days, the delicious homemade jams that she gave to colleagues on people's birthdays, or the gatherings that she put together on her front porch at the end of the first week of school. Nancy has done so much for the community over the years and has always been a role model for me because she leads with her heart.

I am very sorry to see her leave; however, I am extremely happy for her because she will have more time to dedicate to herself, something she deserves after all she has given to us and Park. To Nancy I say this, "Me quito el sombrero."

–Paul Villamoare

In her first year here, Nancy convinced students that it would be fun to decorate for a fall dance...they did it enthusiastically... and she also began a tradition of dressing up for Halloween in the Upper School, something that seemed unheard of prior to her showing up in one of the many costumes that she has made. Nancy was always willing to sponsor student activities, including Amnesty International for many years, and more recently Pride. When Immersion Week came, she also offered her popular Sewing activity, helping students (and some faculty) either learn or improve their sewing skills.

All of these things Nancy saw as a regular part of her job....in addition to her normal teaching load. When she taught AP Spanish, Senora Fink would invite students to come in early on the day of the exam to eat breakfast, dance around to loosen up, and speak and sing in Spanish, all to help them relax prior to beginning the test.

Park will miss Senora Fink in so many ways, and I know the faculty will retain fond memories of the black bean soup that she provided for lunch on comment writing days.

–Bob Carter

Hey Nancy,

Sophomore year, I joined your advisory because I heard that you made good food; and while you do in fact make good food, you have also provided me with so much more than that. You're the person I go to when something's wrong or I'm feeling down, and the person I go to when I'm excited and want to share the things going on in my life. You are always ready to give me good advice or witty sarcasm, both of which I greatly appreciate. It always makes me incredibly happy when you wave back to me out of your window during class (it's good to know that I'm more important than your class wink). You're one of the sweetest, most caring teachers I know, despite the fact that you repeatedly made fun of my food preferences. I want to thank you for putting up with all of my nonsense, helping me survive high school, and most importantly, for keeping me well fed. We're all going to miss you.

–Abi Klos '19

Nancy, you are an amazing cook. Whether it's fried yuca, quesadillas, chocolate chip banana bread, or tacos, I love eating them all dearly.

Food isn't the point of this letter, though. I want to say that you have been the best advisor I could have asked for, and I want to thank you for that. Thank you for being there for me, and for keeping me on track for these four years I've been here (I know it couldn't have been easy). Thank you for helping me with my senior project, and consistently being invested in how I am doing and always searching for what you can do to help.

I have taken French and Chinese and although I never took a Spanish class with you, I am inspired by your long-time dedication to this school and the language and culture you share with your students.

I am so excited to see and hear about all the places you'll go, the future hockey games you'll attend, and amazing new things you'll create (whether it be more delicious food or on the loom). Thanks again, Kim Fox

Querida Nancy,
Te escribo esta carta en español porque sé que prefieres que hablemos en esta lengua y es así como nos hemos conocido todos estos años. Es mi lengua materna, pero también es tu lengua porque la has adoptado como la tuya y ha sido parte importante de tu vida desde que eras joven. Para mí ha sido un privilegio poder hablar contigo en mi propia lengua; eres de las pocas personas en este país que realmente comprende mi cultura y te lo agradezco muchísimo. Además, ¿cómo podría no escribirte en español? Si lo hiciera en inglés te perderías el drama, la cursilería y la lengua florida propia de nuestra cultura y de quien yo soy.

Sabes que desde que anunciaste tu jubilación he vivido en un estado de "denial" porque no quería pensar que un día no estarías más en Park. Sin embargo, el día ha llegado y ahora no me queda más que agradecerte por estos 18 años juntas. Expresar lo que tú has significado en mi vida profesional y personal en esta carta sería imposible porque indudablemente dejaría tantas cosas importantes afuera, así que voy a recurrir a una de las citas famosas de Isabel Allende, mi escritora favorita, para que explicarte lo que pienso: "Expresar su (nuestra) relación en palabras significaba (significa) definirla, ponerle límites, reducirla. Si no se mencionaba (menciona) permanecía (permanecerá) libre e incontaminada". Nuestra amistad es simplemente así, buena, fuerte y duradera, sin tener que explicarla.

Como sé que te gusta cuando hago referencias de películas al hablar, voy a usar una cita para explicar nuestra experiencia de trabajo juntas. Al final de la película Diarios de Motocicleta (2004), Ernesto "Ché" Guevara (Gabriel García Bernal) después despedirse de su viejo amigo, Alberto Granado (Rodrigo De la Serna), escribe en su diario: "No es este el relato de hazañas impresionantes, es un trozo de dos vidas tomadas en un momento en que cursaron juntas un determinado estrecho con identidades, aspiraciones y conjunción en sueños". Para mí, esta cita describe nuestra relación, no hemos hecho viajes exóticos ni hemos tenido aventuras fascinantes que contarle al mundo, pero las dos compartimos el mismo amor por la materia que enseñamos. Podemos hablar sin parar de literatura, arte, cine, cultura, tradiciones e historia de Latinoamérica, y a las dos nos fascina la riqueza cultural que el continente ofrece. ¡Somos idénticas de esa manera! Como Ché y Alberto, tenemos aspiraciones comunes y sueños similares para nuestros estudiantes y nuestro programa. Además, tenerte en Park para mí también ha significado la habilidad de mantener contacto conmigo misma y con mi propia tierra porque tú lo has hecho todo relevante en mi vida.

Finalmente, haya sido coordinadora del programa, jefa de departamento, o simplemente haya decidido crear una clase electiva nueva, siempre te he consultado y pedido tu consejo en todas mis decisiones, grandes o pequeñas. Tu apoyo ha sido indispensable para mí, pero en realidad ha sido indispensable para mucha gente en nuestra comunidad. Con generosidad y sabiduría, nos has dado un sentimiento de pertenencia y estabilidad en Park. En nombre de todos los que nos hemos beneficiado de tu apoyo incondicional y cuidado te digo: "¡Gracias, Nancy!".

Ahora es tu tiempo para hacer algo diferente y me alegra por ti. Disfruta de esta nueva etapa en tu vida y explora toda esa creatividad y el talento artístico que tienes. A nosotros nos será imposible reemplazarte, pero todos estamos muy felices por ti y por una jubilación bien merecida.

Y claro, esta no sería una buena carta sin la última estrofa de uno de mis tangos favoritos, Adiós muchachos por el argentino Carlos Gardel:

Adiós muchacho, compañeros de mi vida,
Barra querida de aquellos tiempos.
Me toca a mí hoy emprender la retirada
Debo alejarme de mi buena muchachada.

Con mucho cariño, Ileana

(Translation)
Dear Nancy,
I write this letter in Spanish because I know this is the language you prefer when we talk to each other, and it is the language we have consistently used all these years. Spanish is my native language, but it's also your language because you have adopted it as your own, and it has been an important part of your life since you were young. It has been a real privilege for me to be able to speak with you in my own language; you are one of the few people in this country who truly understands my cultural background, and I am grateful for that. Besides, how could I not write this letter in Spanish? You would miss all the drama, the cheesiness, and the flowery language that is a part of my culture and who I am.

You know that since the day you announced your retirement I have been in a state of denial because I didn't want to think about you not being at Park anymore. But the day has arrived and you are leaving, and all I can do now is to say thank you for our 18 years together. It would be almost impossible to explain in this letter what our time together has meant for me because I would leave so much out; therefore, as I always do, I will let Isabel Allende, my favorite writer, do the job for me by using one of her famous quotes, "Explaining our relationship by using words would mean to define it, to place limits, to reduce it. If we don't mention it, it will remain free and uncontaminated." Our friendship is simply long-lasting, strong and amazing; we don't need to explain it.

Because I know you enjoy Spanish film references, I am going to borrow a quotation from Motorcycle Diaries (2004) to explain our professional experience together. At the end of the film, Ernesto "Ché" Guevara (Gabriel Garcia Bernal), after saying goodbye to his old friend Alberto Granado (Rodrigo De la Serna), writes in his diary, "This isn't a tale of heroic feats. It's about two lives running parallel for a while, with common aspirations and similar dreams." This is exactly how I feel about our work together; we have not traveled to exotic places, nor have we had amazing adventures to tell the world about, but we both share the same love and passion for the subject we teach. We can talk forever about literature, art, movies, and the traditions and history of Latin America, and we are both fascinated by the cultural wealth the region has to offer. We are identical in that way! Like Ché and Alberto, we have common aspirations and similar dreams for our students and our program. Furthermore, having you at Park has allowed me to keep in touch with myself and with my own country because you make it all relevant.

Finally, it doesn't matter whether I have been program coordinator, department chair, or simply have decided to create a new elective class; I have always sought you out for consult and advice. Your support has been indispensable to me, but in reality, it has been indispensable to many people in our community. With generosity and wisdom you have provided many of us with a strong sense of belonging and stability at Park. On behalf of everyone who has benefited from your unconditional support and care, I want to say, "Thank you, Nancy!"

This is your time now to leave Park and I am happy for you. Enjoy this new stage in your life. Explore your creativity and artistic talents. It will be impossible for us to replace you, but still, we are all happy for you and for a well-deserved retirement.

Of course, this would not be a good Spanish letter if I didn't finish it with the lyrics to one of my favorite tangos by the Argentinian Carlos Gardel.

Goodbye my friends, companions of my life
Dear friends from those old days
It is my turn today to undertake my withdrawal
I must depart now from you my good old friends

Love, Ileana

DEDICATION: Robin Willard–35 years

Dear Robin (Mr. Willard),
I am writing to you on behalf of the thousands of students and campers you have taught, coached, and mentored over your 35 years at The Park School. Your passion and knowledge is amazing and your impact has been deep and wide. Your consistent and long term commitment to our students, our Physical Education and Athletics programs, and community can be seen daily. Your advisees have an advocate, your students a master teacher, your athletes an all-star coach, and our community a visionary. Likewise, your colleagues have a supportive, reliable, bright, well-read, and funny friend and confidant. Students and colleagues alike appreciate your commitment to your ideals and the insight and vision you hold. You are inspiring! Thank you for challenging us, our curriculum, and our mission. Thank you for keeping us honest. Thank you for caring and believing and growing our program. And thank you for making sure every student in our school is valued and has access to our program.

–Robin Lowe '84 (and the entire Park Community)

P.S. And on a personal note — to the man with whom I share a name. Robin — your mentorship and guidance during my early years at Park have proved invaluable. You helped to shape and mold me as my foundation as a teacher and coach were being formed. Your values, your innate ability to connect with people, and your love for teaching inspire me every day. Without a doubt, you have had the single most impact on helping me become the teacher and coach I am today. You may not have known it, and I may not have said it enough — but now is the time. Thank you! Park School and each of us are better for having had the privilege to work with you.

It is almost impossible to put into words what Robin Willard has done for the Park Community over the past 35 years as a coach, advisor, and teacher. He has cared for each and every one of his students/players over the past few decades. He truly sees the best in people.

The summer before I started Middle School, I was overjoyed to find out Mr. Willard was going to be my advisor for one reason, which was that he was part of the athletic department. I knew it was a good fit from the start, because I loved Park athletics just as much as he did. In Middle School, I loved house just because of Mr. Willard. Despite the musty, cramped room we met in in blaustein gym 2, I looked forward to it every week because of his great humor and thoughtful insight. On the other side of his responsibilities at Park, he was the Girls' Varsity Basketball coach well before I was in Middle School, but from what I have heard he was an excellent coach. I wish I could have had the pleasure of being coached by him in basketball, because he understood the game uniquely, just as I see it.

In the Park community, there are some people that are irreplaceable and Mr. Willard is one of them. I can't imagine being at Park without him, because he has shaped me and many others as athletes and as individuals since 4th Grade P.E. class. Thank you Mr. Willard for your time and dedication at Park, and for putting up with students like me!

—Becca Frank '21

Sir Willard, The Great, has been a lot of things to me. Although I am sad to see him go, it makes me happy to know that he will be able to live out the rest of his life however he feels fit and I hope that he doesn't forget our interesting house, because I sure know I couldn't even if I wanted to.
Thank you for being you Mr. Willard.

–Jack Segal-Landon '24

Fair play, hard work, sportsmanship, teamwork — Robin Willard preaches these virtues to the classes he teaches and the teams he coaches, but more importantly, he is the living embodiment of them. "Mr. Willard" is a big gruff guy who demands the very best from his students and athletes, and one might guess that his students would be scared witless of him; but the gruffness is counterbalanced by his ready smile, his evenhandedness, and his willingness to listen, which make it clear to students that here they have found a stalwart ally. According to Webster, "stalwart" suggests an unshakeable dependability, and Park School students, faculty, and administrators have been depending on Robin for decades. As P.E. teacher, coach, advisor, trip chaperone, and science camp director he has left his mark on all three divisions of the school as well as summer camps. His classes are carefully planned to maximize learning and enjoyment, his basketball and lacrosse teams enjoyed high levels of success both in the conventional sense of wins and losses, but also in learning those virtues mentioned earlier. He has taught P.E. classes on everything from golf to circus arts. On a 7th Grade class trip, as students paused for lunch at the top of Maryland Heights overlooking Harpers Ferry, they found that Robin also has a deep love of history as he shared the story of John Brown's raid brought vividly to life by his description with the town laid out like a map below. But perhaps the greatest gift he has given students over the years is sharing his love of whitewater. He created the canoeing program and introduced hundreds, possibly thousands, of students to the joys of paddling canoes and kayaks down the Youghiogheny, Potomac, and Gunpowder rivers. It may seem that with his retirement this stalwart should ride off into the setting sun, but it is far more appropriate for him to paddle off down a rolling river, and we hope that he revels in it — seven days a week.

–Dave Lowther

Mr. Willard,

I am one of the lucky few to have had you as my advisor for sixth and seventh grade. You are a coach, gym teacher, advisor, father, and friend. Somehow, you manage to do all of this, when very few in the world can. You not only teach us respect and knowledge, but you show us right from wrong, and you are always there for us. Whenever we need a hand, or someone to talk to, or someone you know won't judge you if I ask a stupid question, that's you.

Although everyone is sad to see you go, we know that you have touched everyone's heart in one way or another. Whether it has been coaching them on the court or field or saying aloud the morning announcements. You have made your mark, and might I just say it has been amazing on me.

The first thing you do at the beginning of the year with all of your advisees, is say very clearly and loudly, "I will always be on your side, as long as you are telling the truth the whole time." This has stuck in my head since I was the sixth grader sitting on your probably 20-year-old couch. Since then, every time I have come to you with a question or problem, I have stuck by that rule. You are truly amazing in every way. I was so fortunate to have had you for two years. I will miss you greatly, but you will always be in my head guiding me in the right direction.

WHAT IT'S ABOUT

Goldsoundz is a seasonal event in which student musicians can perform for the Park community in a form that is more casual than that of a concert or recital. Hosted by student hosts every season, Goldsoundz is a night that comes full of exciting student performances as well as a fun atmosphere created by the hosts, performers, and the audience alike.

WHY I PERFORM

"In my earlier years, I started at Goldsoundz just sound mixing, and then I started being asked to play on a couple songs. And by the last Goldsoundz, I played on nine or so songs. I enjoy it all. It's like a fun challenge that's different from what I normally play. "

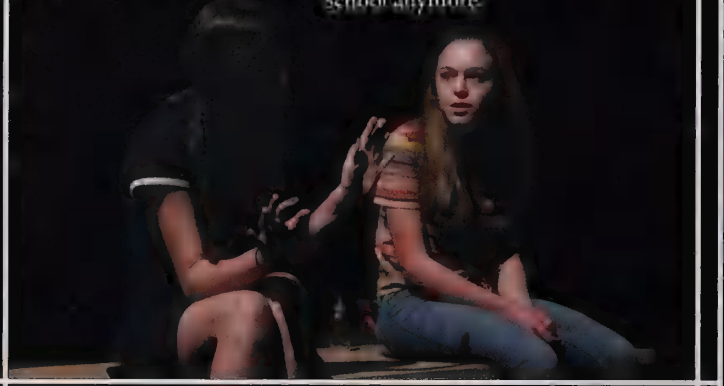
STUDENT DIRECTED PLAYS

Lockdown

Teacher.....Claudia Henry
Adam.....Ben Norin
Sarah.....Selina Sanchez
Mark.....Matthew Hudes
Chelsea.....Alina Glass
Tyler Barnett....Dylan Sarubin
Liz.....Katey Cooney
Phyllis.....Gisselle Sanchez
9th Grader...Callan Beideman

Directed by Owen Sahnow
Stage Manager: Cooper Glass

Lockdown attacks the controversial national tragedy of school shootings through the experience of the students. Built upon the stress of simply sitting and not knowing, the show draws upon the juxtaposition of laughter and sadness. Each character copes in ways that they see fit—in ways that we ourselves would act in the same horrifying situation. To the eight kids in the classroom, this isn't just an ordinary day at school anymore.



Slide/Over

Jay.....Nora Smith
Steph.....Abigail Gross
Trish.....Samantha Saunders
Scott.....Sam Cochran
Diane.....Ginger Koh

Directed by Stephanie Faura
Stage Manager: Isabel Kwass-Mason

There is lots is to learn about the concept of change through this show. When Jay is caught kissing Scott by another one of their friends, she and the rest of the group must adjust to who she has become.

Cougar

Kate.....Addy Claybour
Mark.....MJ Smith
Eleanor.....Layla Hodge
Bartender.....Lydia Field

Directed by Jacob Greenwald
Stage Manager: Abi Klos

Mark, significantly younger than Kate, sets up a meeting in which he attempts to woo his father's college girlfriend through a variety of means.

#happenstance

Cassidy.....Katharine Shock
Megan.....Charlotte Egginton
Serrena.....Hailey Fried
Abe.....Ben Polyakov
Barista.....Lydia Field
Café Patrons....Callan Beideman, Lance Greenberg, Aaron Sterling

Directed by Taura Zarfeshan
Stage Manager: Seth Hudes

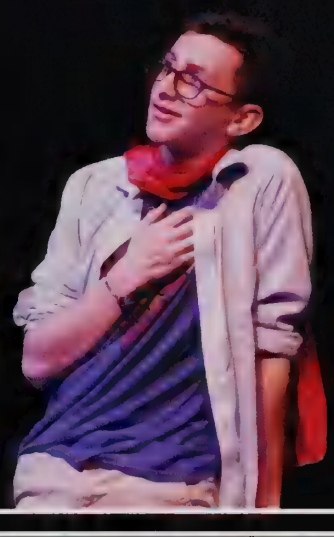
An ordinary day at the coffee shop with her wife is turned upside down as Cassidy spots her ex-boyfriend Abe. Should she talk to him? A few bombshells about their past are dropped, but is this whole interaction really happening, or is it all in her head?

CONTROLLING INTEREST

Jack.....Bishop Freeman
Brad.....Nathan Fuss
David.....Aaron Sterling
Steven.....Arenal Haut
Ashley...Sammy Braverman
Bethany....Naomi Brotman

Directed by Wills Millin
Stage Manager: Naomi Carpenter

When Jack's "play date" with the boys takes a surprising new turn towards the business of discussing the idea of liking girls, chaos and hilarity ensue.



Picnic on the Battlefield

Zapo.....Asha Johnson
Zepo.....Katie Fee
Sr. Tepan.....Lance Greenberg
Sra. Tepan.....Darya Zarfeshan
Medic #1.....Bella Palumbi
Medic #2.....Fiona Brummer
General.....Isabella Otterbein

Directed by Owen Anderson
Stage Manager: Jordyn Harris

The work of Spanish playwright, Fernando Arrabal, Picnic on the Battlefield conceptually challenges the audience through techniques of absurdism, and the movement that Arrabal led known as "panic theater." The original play was built on Arrabal's experience in Francoist Spain. This English adaptation explores a family picnic on the front lines of an "unknown" war in a more modern, but still absurd, style.

Last Minute Adjustments

Protagonist.....Devon McLean
Supervisor.....Noam Fox
Assistant A.....Rachael Kaplan
Assistant B.....Parrish André
Radio Technician...Lucy Fisher

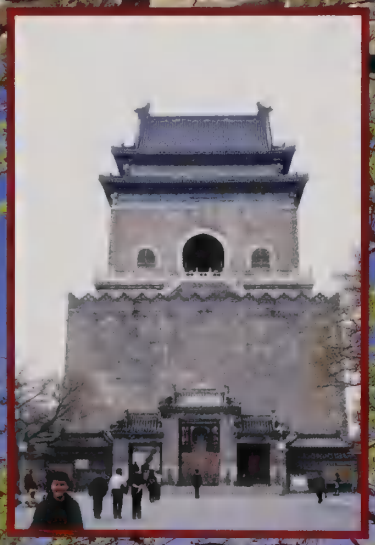
Directed by Ian Greenberg
Stage Manager: Madeline Wolf

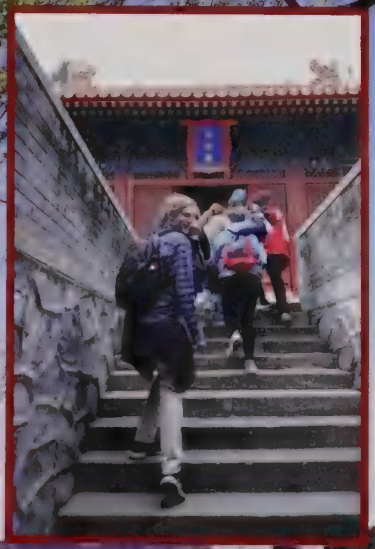
What if the scariest moment of our lives was right before we left the womb? This is the question that Last Minute Adjustments answers. Our protagonist, a baby, doesn't want to leave. The womb is comfortable. Nothing bad can happen. The supervisor and assistant of the womb must teach our protagonist the beauty of life before it's too late.

Chinese Exchange Trip

中国交流之旅

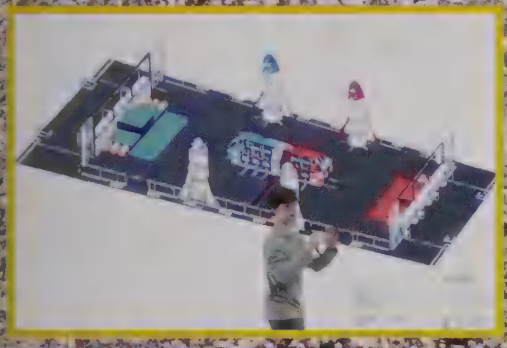
Fourteen Park students and two faculty members traveled to China as part of an ongoing exchange with the Beijing No. 9 School. This is the fifth time Park students have participated in this exchange program.





"China was such a great time. I got to improve my Chinese, and immerse myself in the culture of China. I became friends with Chinese students and formed a closer bond with all of the Park students on the trip. I couldn't have asked for a better experience."

- Kim Fox '19



THE LARAMIE PROJECT

Director's Note:

The Laramie Project is a deeply moving depicition of how the town of Laramie grappled with the tragic murder of Matthew Shepard in 1998. The play has 66 roles, and at the start of the second semester, the actors in the ensemble wrote down six roles they were intrested in taking on, many of which contrasted each other, and I tried to cast the play accordingly. In addition to the 66 roles, 35 narrators also needed to be cast. It became evident that this play portrayed the people of Laramie. Structurally, The Laramie Project is made up of what Moisés Kaufman and the Tectonic Theater Project call "Moments." Members of the Tectonic Theater Project traveled to Laramie following Matthew Shepard's beating and took over 200 interviews, generated over 400 hours of recordings, and created a play with 50 "moments."

PARK YEAR IN REVIEW

After four years at Park, Upper School Principal Nancy Dickson has decided to step down as principal in order to spend more time with her family.

This December, world renowned journalist Sacha Pfeiffer visited Park as our annual Weinberg Resident Journalist. In her assembly and smaller group discussions, she discussed her work on the Boston Globe's spotlight journalist team.

This year's Resident Scholar was none other than the former Commissioner of Health for the City of Baltimore, Leana Wen. Two weeks prior to her visit, Dr. Wen was named the next president of Planned Parenthood.

This year, Jean Shin visited as our 2019 Diana Lee Fox '75 Resident Artist. Shin has worked for years perfecting the art of collecting items and creating magnificent works of art to be displayed in public and in museums.

SENIOR STUDIO

Senior Studio is an accelerated year-long course for highly experienced students who wish to take a more open—ended art class. These students work in the media of their choice. The course culminates with a Senior Show exhibition in the spring, just before seniors leave for their final project experience.

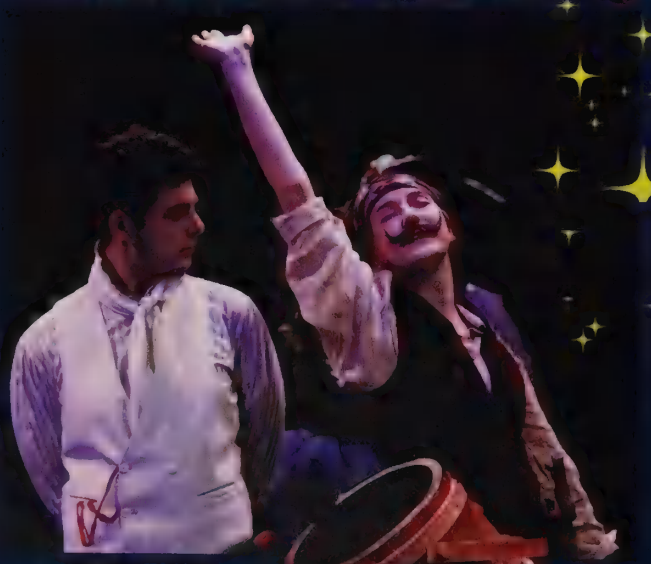
Peter and The Starcatcher

Fresh/Soph Production, May 2018



Told years before the iconic story Peter Pan, Peter and The Starcatcher tells the story of how a nameless orphan boy, came to be Peter Pan, as well as how his nemesis Black Stache came to be recognized not by his luscious handlebar mustache, but instead by his menacing hook, under the new name of Captain Hook. As pirates scheme to become rich, British subjects Lord Leonard Aster and his daughter Molly Aster fight to protect the world from starstuff, a dangerous yet magical substance.

Team 1719 Robotics

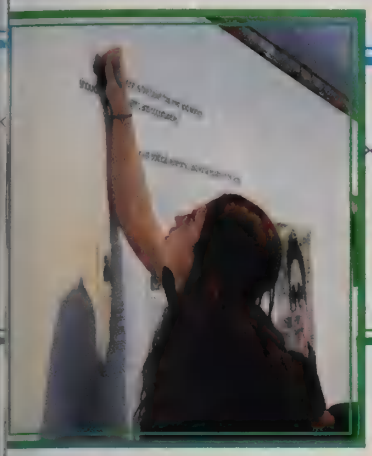
Team 1719, the "Umbrella Corporation," is Park School's very own competitive robotics team. Competing in First Robotics Competition (FRC) championships all across the region, the team has 6 weeks to design, prototype, build, and program a robot that can successfully earn points while playing in matches against other schools.

TECH CREW

Park School's Technical Crew works tirelessly to construct the sets of our major school productions, design and mix sound during shows and assemblies, and manage lighting in our Blackbox and Meyerhoff theaters.

GALLERY COMMITTEE



"Gallery Committee has been my connection to the immediate world of art around me, especially with all of the local artists that we've brought in, and the resident artists that we've spoken to. It helps me figure out how the art we make at school connects us to the world around us."

- Dasha Khristich '19

Admissions Ambassadors

Admissions Ambassadors is the first step in every new and perspective student's time at Park. Each student ambassador works to manage Admissions events, as well as give tours around Park School.

Park Jazz Collective

Park Jazz Collective (PJC), is an audition based advanced class in jazz music that is open to students grades 9 through 12. Students work towards mastering their talents in playing together as a group and improvisational solos. Music selections come from all over the world of music, including the jazz canon, fusion, contemporary styles, as well as their own song arrangments. PJC plays at school assemblies, public concerts, and community events.

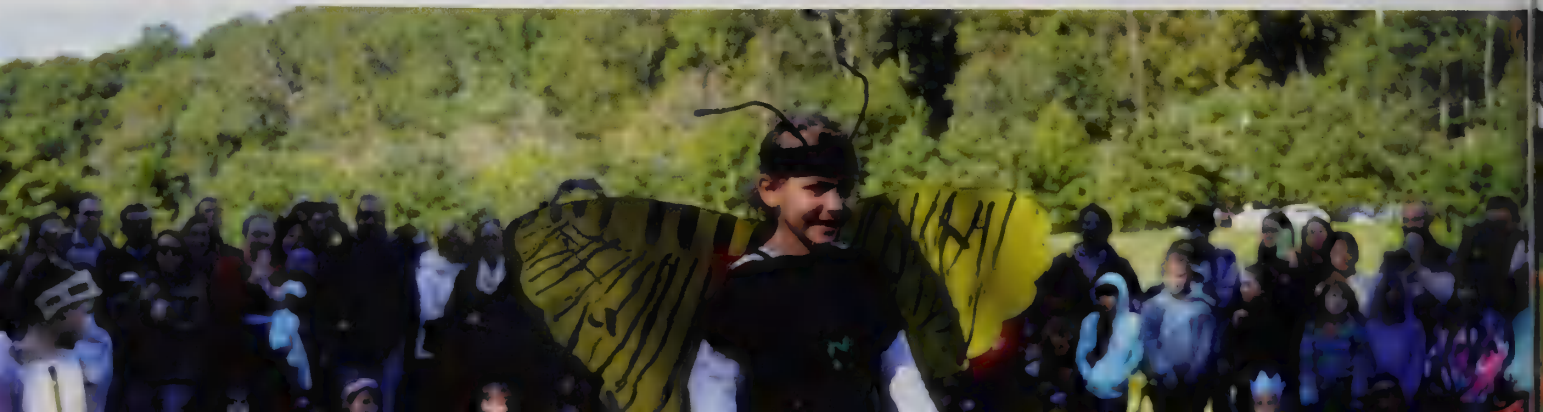
The Monarch Project teaches Kindergarteners the interdisciplinary lessons of scientific observation, data collection, the mathematics of symmetry, natural camouflage, and presentation findings. The project culminates with the dramatization of the Monarch metamorphosis at the Monarch Festival each fall.

Monarch Festival



Autumn Harvest Festival

Every autumn, an afternoon is planned when Lower School students in Grades 1–5 and teachers participate in cross-grade, non-competitive games, story telling, and events in a celebration of school spirit.

Halloween

Parade

On Halloween, Lower School children come to school in creatively crafted costumes. There is a parade throughout the school and school grounds.

VALENTINE MIDDLE SCHOOL MIXER

Music in the Park

On Friday, May 4, 2018, several Middle School music groups traveled to Hershey Park, Pennsylvania to compete at the Music in the Parks festival. An opportunity to perform for outside vocal and instrumental teachers, the groups competed against schools from all over the East Coast.

The B#s, Park's auditioned Middle School a cappella group, won first place in their division with a superior rating, and 7th Grader Lindsay Reamer won the outstanding soloist award! Park also won the Esprit de Corps award for being the most well behaved, kind, and polite group at the event.

"It was so great to see them recognized for their ensemble skills and all around awesomeness!"

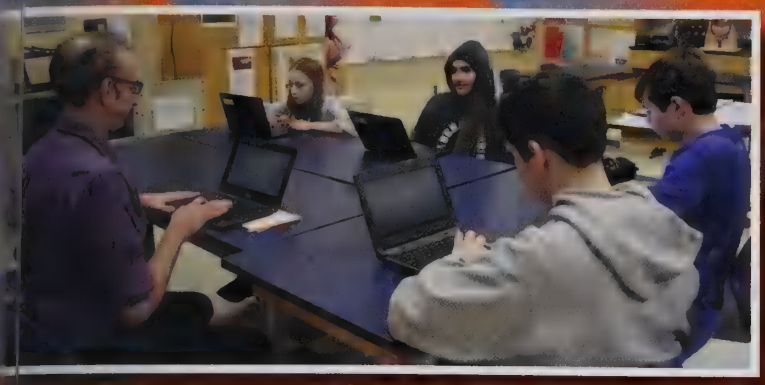
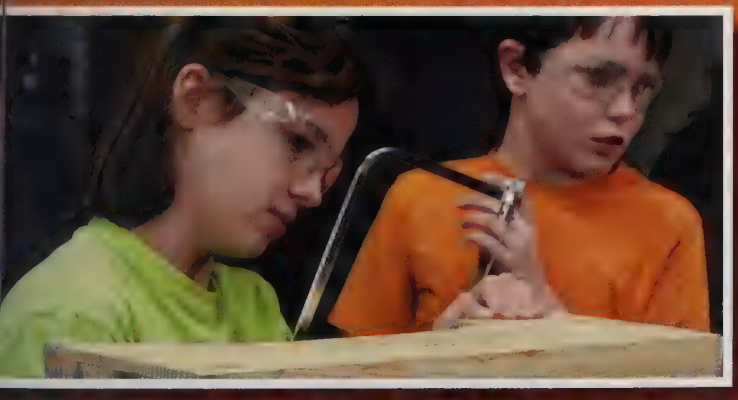
Exploratory Learning Week

"ELW this year was fun. I was in this year's 8th Grade play, The Chosen, which was a wonderful experience. We did a full run of it and a preview. Then at the end of the week, we did our shows which went really well. It was exciting to see how all the work we put into it came to life.... Overall, this year's ELW was amazing."

—Jamison Harris '23





ELW is a week where regular Middle School classes are suspended for different learning opportunities. Students explore different subject matter and learn more deeply about their known passions. Some of the classes this year included instrument making, play writing, playing board games, helping out in Lower School, and Zumba dancing. Throughout the day, most students have the chance to do three different activities. At the end of each day there are challenges between Houses. Points are awarded and whichever group accumulated the most points by the end of the week won!

"I really enjoyed making instruments with Sam because we got to use a lot of power tools and all of us ended up with an instrument we can play!"

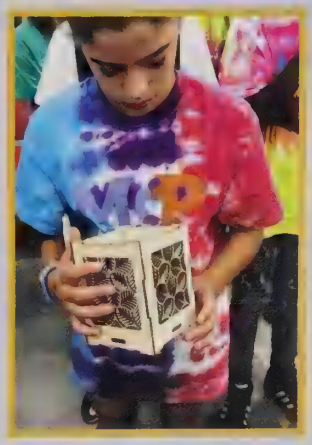
Middle Grades Partnership

Young Visionaries and Change Makers 2018



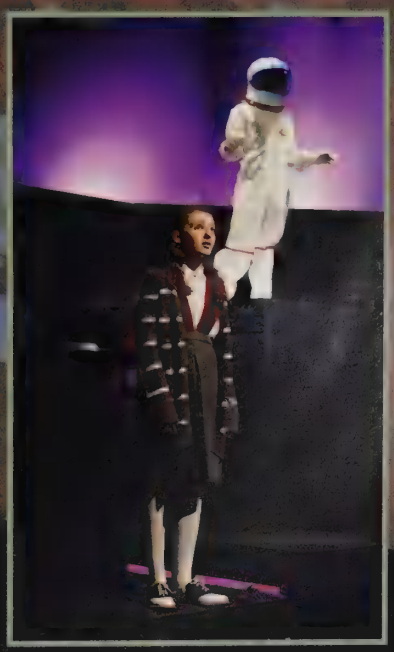
Middle Grades Partnership is an organization that pairs a Baltimore City charter school with a private school in the summer. The program is four weeks long and gives the opportunity for private school students and public school students to have a chance to learn new things inside and outside the classroom. Park is paired with the Afya Charter School here in Baltimore City. The students that participate are rising 7th, 8th, and 9th Graders. The theme for the summer of 2018 was Young Visionaries and Change Makers.

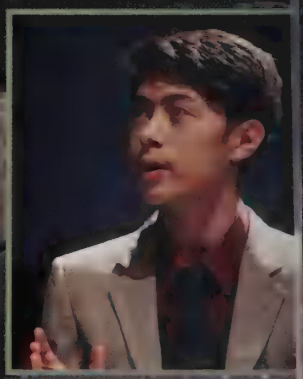
When the students are learning in the classrooms, they are taught by both Park teachers and Afya teachers. This gives all students a diverse learning environment that helps them while learning challenging concepts.

During the four weeks that the students are together, they go on trips, create new projects, and meet inspiring people in their community.

The Chosen

by Lachlan Philpott





"For most girls, finding a place within the cliques, the hierarchies, and the gossip of a new school is tough enough. For Freya Star, it's astronomically more difficult. She's different; she is convinced she has been marked by something not of this world . . . but when the girls at school start prying into Freya's life, everything she thinks she knows starts crashing down to Earth."

–Lachlan Philpott

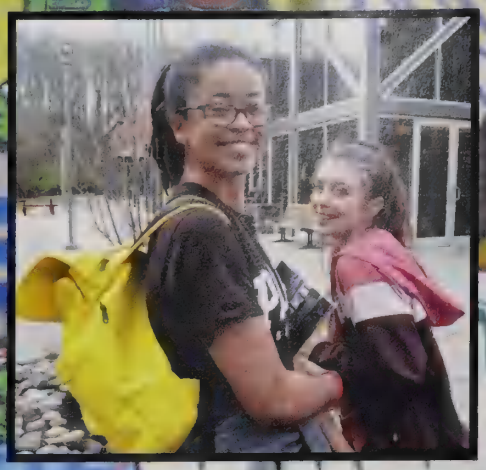
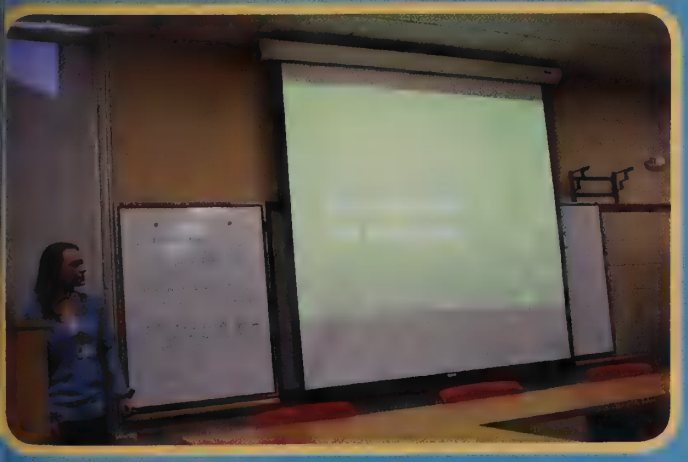
Day of Civic Engagement



Day of Civic Engagement is a day devoted to students participating in service out in the Baltimore community. This year students chose from a wide variety of activities to participate in including Ronald McDonald House, Civic Works, Paul's Place, Share Baby, and Wolfe Street Academy.

9th Grade Wellness

9th Grade Wellness is a graduation requirement that all 9th Graders must complete. The students are split into different groups, and every other week the groups participate in learning and life skills sessions.



"Wellness 9 was really informative, and I loved going to all of the different classes!"

"I was nervous to start high school being that my grades would now start to matter in the long run, but as the year went on, I became more comfortable with my classes and school in general. It's always a challenge to balance my sports life with my school work, but it's become less stressful as I've gotten better with time management, and knowing that my teachers are helpful resources."

To Dad for car rides with the top down, Mom for hugs, Meghan for sharing my music taste, Charlotte for laughter, and Toby for sick-day snuggles. To Tomás for putting up with me no matter what nonsense I throw at you. To my friends for ice cream runs, tea deliveries, rom com viewings, midnight conversations, and unfailing support. I love you all. To Peter Warren for lunch, Traci for being the best, Sra. Imhoff for post-class conversations, and Kirk Wulf for advisory dinners and for driving me home. To all the teachers who guided me through my Park School journey. And to Park School for the countless opportunities you gave me. I truly would not be the person I am today without each and every one of you. Thank you all.

To the Park School—thank you for allowing me to think outside the box for the past 7 years & for giving me the opportunity to meet a number of extraordinary people along the way.

To Eden and Adee—thank you for constantly making me laugh until my stomach hurts, and for being the best role models. I feel so lucky to call you both my best friends.
To my Ema and Aba—I will never be able to find the words to describe how thankful I am for you both. You inspire me to be the best version of myself, and you have made so many sacrifices that got me to where I am today. I am forever grateful to have the funniest, coolest, and most caring parents. Somehow, in three short years, I have lived a lifetime. Thank you to the teachers, students, and others who I've had the privilege of crossing paths with. To Traci, Dan, Robin, and Christine: thank you for being role models, for helping me through the day, for letting me hide out in your offices. To my dear friends: you make my days sweeter and brighter with each smile, hug, and high five. To my teachers: thank you for helping to foster my love of learning and curiosity. Mom and Dad, you have taught me the most valuable lessons in life. My heart swells with compassion because of the way you lead in your life. Thank you for the endless sacrifices you make. To the student who is nervous, it's ok. We make it through the other side, just fine. To the Park school community: never stop questioning, it's what makes you, you! Maeve has been the surprise and joy of our old age. We were both in our sixties already and didn't really want a grandchild. But there she was, small and fragile, cute and funny, and expecting our love and care. She was so clueless that I told her not to even bother trying to learn about the world; far better to stay innocent. In most things she obeyed me. When I told her she couldn't eat solid food without teeth, she grew teeth. When I told her she couldn't crawl her way through life, she stood up and walked. When I told her I'd never know what she wanted unless she learned to speak English, she spoke English. But when told her not to bother learning about the world she just looked at me with big, solemn eyes and I knew she wouldn't obey . She was still a toddler when she showed her resourcefulness. We were locked outside one day with her grandfather busy on the second floor of the house. When my thrown pebbles never reached the high window she looked around and said "Try the hose, granny," and, of course, the hose worked.

Maeve never had to be entertained. We were all ready with a library of children's books and a pile of board games. Maeve was only mildly interested. When she came through the door she already knew what our project would be. She knew the theme of the make believe play, what part she would act out and what part(s) I, or sometimes her grandpa, would try to fulfill. At first we had to be vampires or fairies. Then hotel managers or grocery vendors. And then, a big surprise. One day I had to be the mistress of a household in which she was a servant. She was 6. Nobody in her life experience had come close to such a scenario. The first time this happened I was a nosey and cruel mistress for whom she could do nothing right. The next day I was kind and generous. And the third day I was patronizingly kind and deceitfully generous and she had to figure out how to respond. Where was she getting this stuff? Another play involved a new student coming into her school. The girl was from India and knew no English. She was dressed oddly and did a few things not quite within the culture of the class. I was the teacher. Every day her treatment at the hands of the class changed and every day the teacher had to figure out how to handle the situation. I asked her teachers if they had a new student from a foreign land. "No." Did any new student come in this year.? "No." No problem. In a few weeks I became a panther pet of a princess whose life I saved through my magically sophisticated wits.

There was another way in which Maeve was different from expected. In addition to being warm and loving, she was a nice person. Unfailingly considerate and thoughtful. "Please" and "Thank you" were her first vocabulary words. She thanked me for washing her clothes. She thanked me for providing fruit and berries and a favorite cereal. She was worried for years that, because we weren't employed and had no income from that source, we would go bankrupt. She never asked us to buy her anything and when we did she questioned the cost. We tried to explain that we were not on the verge of poverty, but she worried anyway. Finally I typed up a contract that we both signed. We could give her anything we wanted to and she would never get spoiled. She's kept her part of that bargain.

So she grew up and learned about the world. She became knowledgeable beyond her years but used her knowledge more sophisticatedly than one would expect of such a young girl. She became an excellent conversationalist with her family of grownups. She learned to tolerate and even enjoy school. She learned to live outside her comfort zone. And now she is on her way to college. It is doubtful that we will see her graduate or find her way into the world of the future. But we have seen her off to a good start. And she has been the loveliest surprise and joy of our old age.

We are so proud of you and can't wait to see what firsts tomorrow brings. Here's to the next chapter!

Love you always ~ Mom, Dad, and Ben

Conor –

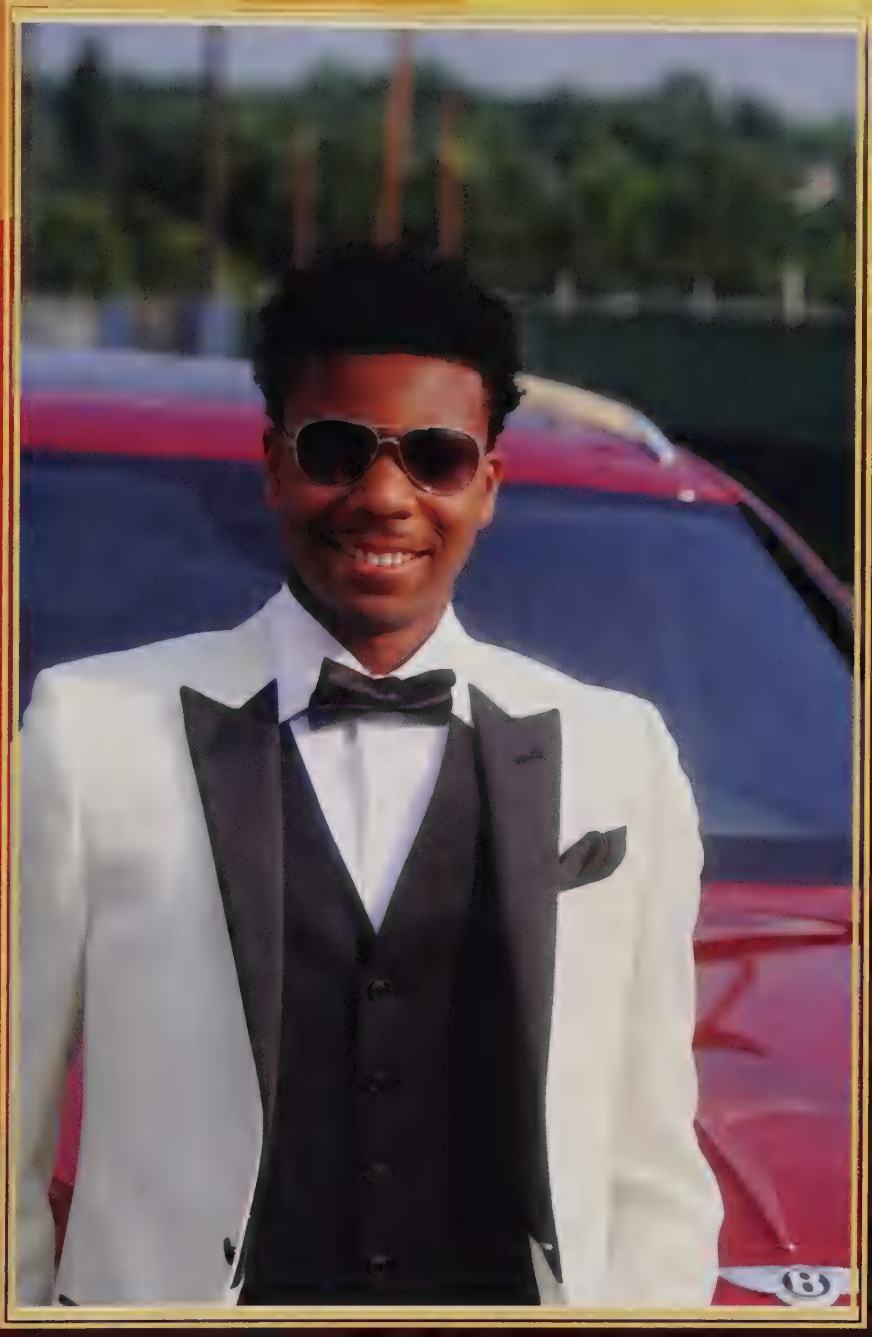
Proud of what you've done and excited about where you're going. We love you!

Dad, Mom, Griffin and Isabel

But the wild things cried, 'Oh please don't go —
We'll eat you up— we love you so!' –Maurice Sendak

Finn,
We are so proud of the special person you are. Stay true to yourself, make your mark, have so much fun and know that we love you to the moon and back!

Mom, Dad, Luke, Néve & Charlie



Jaiden, you are my heart's desire and the true apple of my eye! I am so impressed with the person you have become. It has been my pleasure to be your mom and to watch you grow. My son, you are kind and strong, patient smart and funny! The world is yours for the taking! I love you to the moon and beyond!

Congratulations, Mom

Dear Amit,
You make us Happy and Proud from day one!
We love you so much,
Aba, Ema, Eden, Adee & Simba XOXO

To Zach:

Afoot and light hearted
I take the open road
Healthy, free, the world before me,
The long brown path before me
leading wherever I choose.

—Walt Whitman

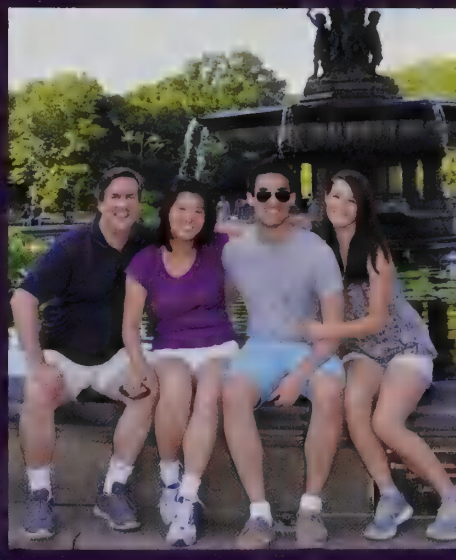
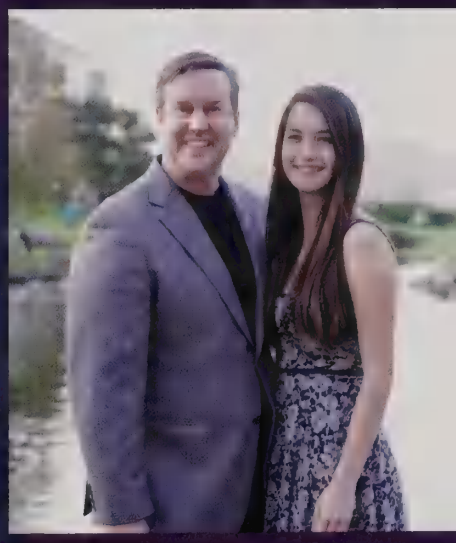
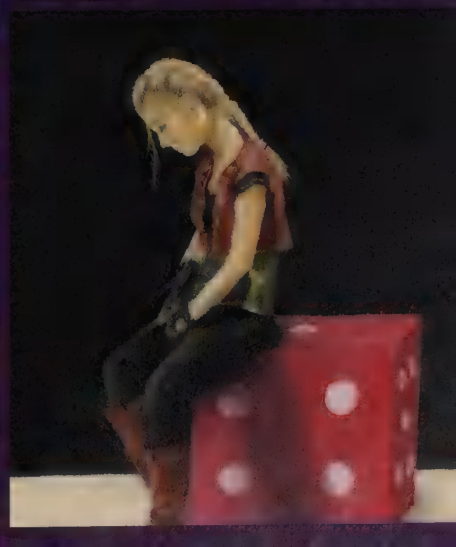
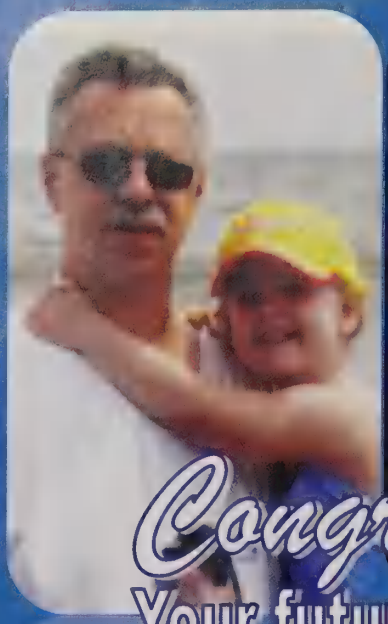
To Karinne, our brilliant, beautiful, busy butterfly. To your energetic zeal that launched into a dozen sports, and excelled at them all. To your inquisitive mind that explored diverse subjects with curiosity and fascination. To your artistic soul that expressed itself through color, design, and whimsical delight. We are so very proud of what you've done, who you've become, and the limitless future ahead!



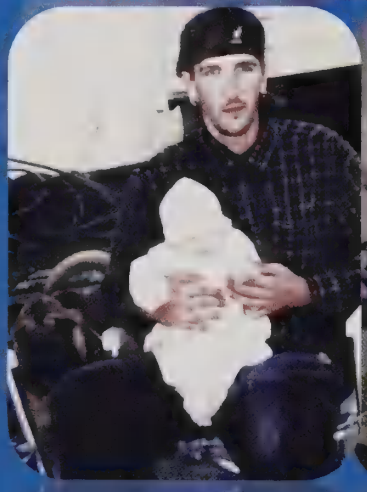


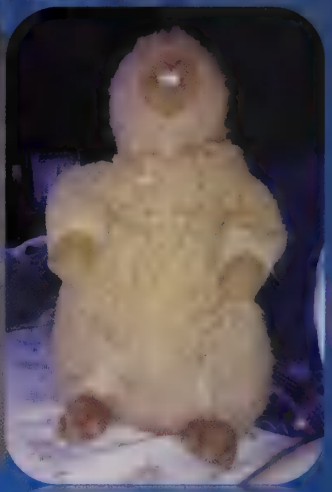


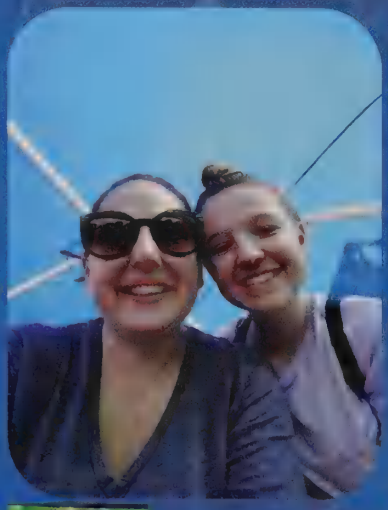


Congratulations Abi!

Your future's so bright you have to... wear shades







Congratulations to the best grandaughter. Learn a lot and have fun doing it

Congrats, Sarah!

We are so proud of you!
Love, Granny and TT

Sydney,

Promise you'll never settle for
Anything less than extraordinary....
Because that's what you deserve.

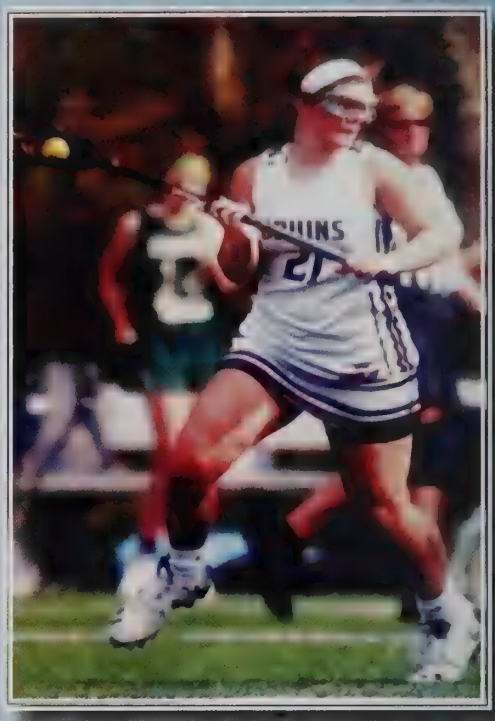
Promise you'll never forget
Who you are....
Because you are beautiful,
Inside and out.

Promise you'll never forget
To believe in yourself....
Because it will help you
Achieve your dreams.

Promise you'll always
Reach for the stars....

Because Sydney,
You can do anything

Congratulations,
Mom-mom and Dat-dat



So many great memories ...

with so many more to come

Congratulations Syd, you make us proud every day!

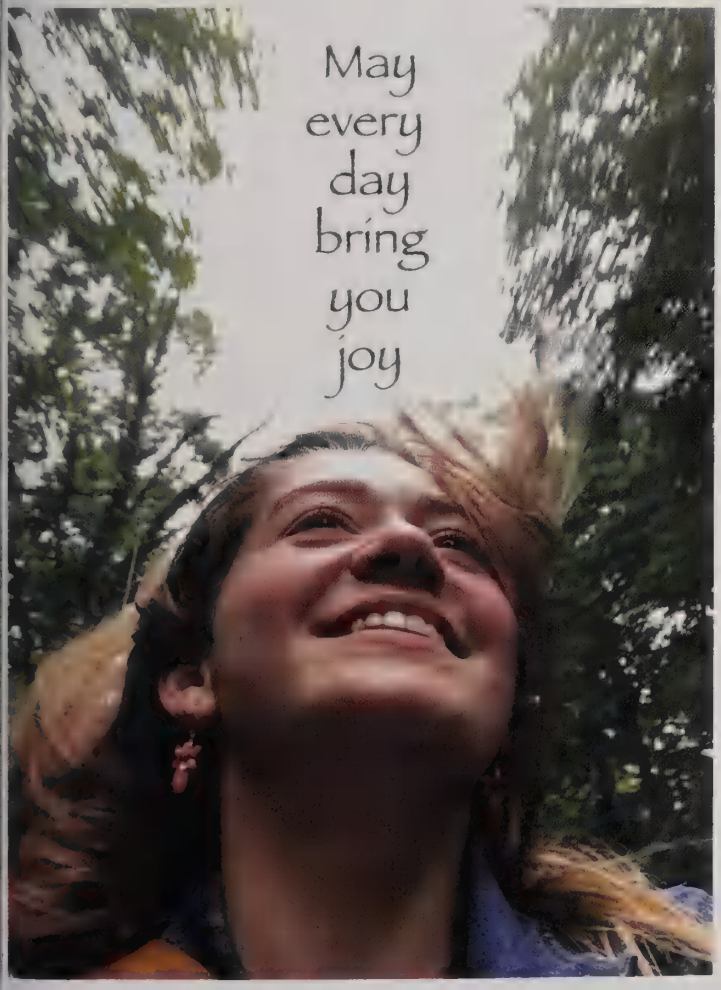
Wishing you happiness, Jacob Tonkonogy.

Love always, Mom, Dad, & Eli

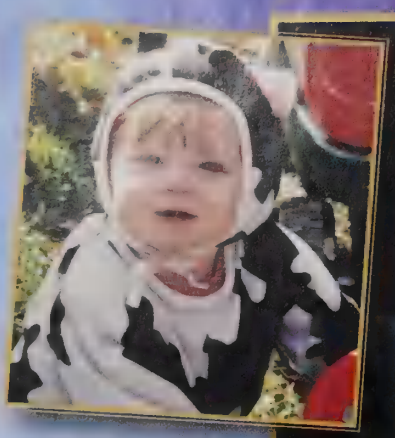


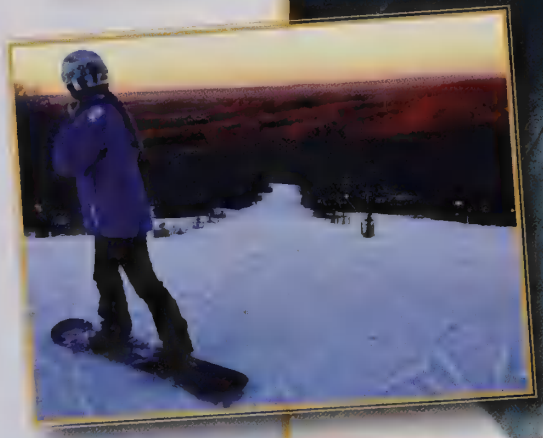
Josh, Congratulations!

With Love, Mom and Dad

The greatest adventure is what lies ahead. Today and tomorrow are yet to be said. The chances, the changes are all yours to make. The mold of your life is in your hands to break.

—J. R. R. Tolkien, The Hobbit





Dear Caitlin,

You were an old soul from the start, so mature and conscientious with a big heart.

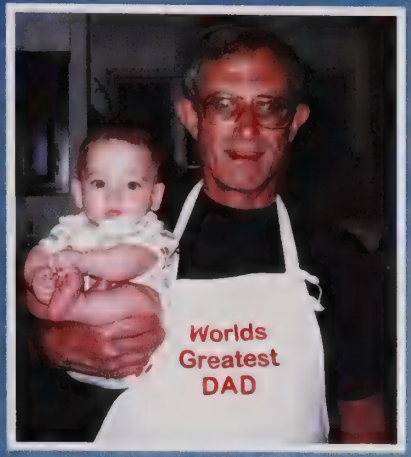
Your enthusiasm for your friends and Park is amazing,

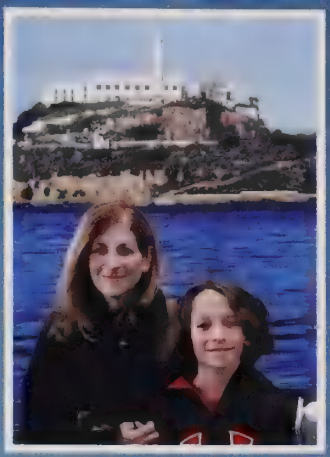
3 sports a year, parksingers, eightnotes and bruins fundraising.

You are passionate about snow boarding, field hockey, art, and playing piano; we know you'll bring your great attitude and creativity with you wherever you go.

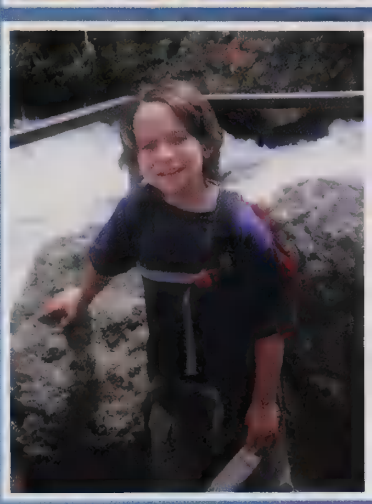
Wishing you happy trails ahead!

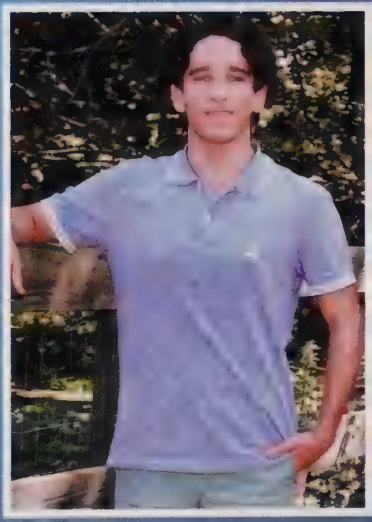
Love, Dylan, Michael, Mom and Dad

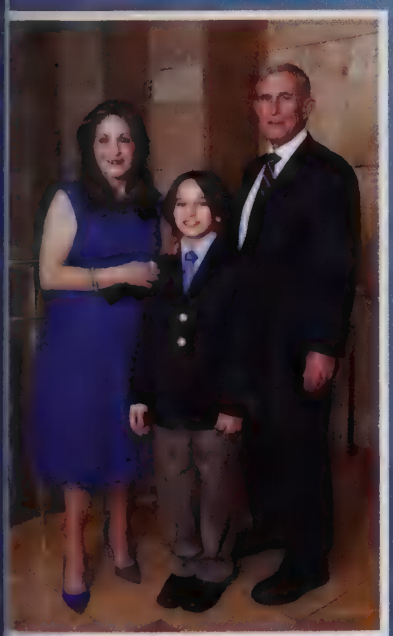


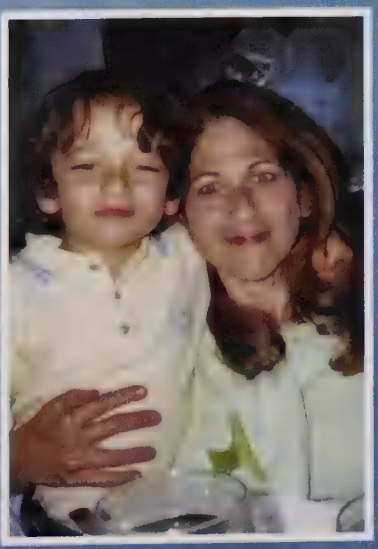


Hold Fast to Dreams









Lance,

May all your dreams come true.

Love,
Mom & Dad
